

I am opposed to cell phones in flight unless there are separate sections for those using cell phones (with sound barrier-practically infeasible). There are too close quarters on planes to subject persons to multiple cell phone conversations. A compromise may be before takeoff, but not in flight.